Money, Time Main Concern of Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Time and money are of main concern to the 62nd General Assembly as it goes into its seventh week today — it's losing one and trying to get up the other.

With 14 working days left in the regular session the Legislature has yet to pass a general appropriations bill because of a hurdle over proposed increases contained in it. This bill, which allocates money for the state's constitutional offices must be passed before any other money measures can be.

The Senate — with an eye on the calendar — has gone ahead and approved other appropriation measures, with the idea of holding them up for the governor's signature until the general appropriations bill goes through. The House has done nothing on appropriations however.

The Lawmakers have been particularly vexed over proposed salary boosts for prosecuting attorneys in the general appropriations bill. Sen. Charles F. (Rip) Smith of West Memphis has said the wrangle over it won't be solved until a compromise is reached on the prosecutors' salaries and on the land commissioner's budget.

The state Highway Department is seeking money for road construction through two pending Senate bills which face mounting opposition from the public; they would boost the gasoline tax, special fuel tax and hike the auto and truck registration fee.

Chances of the bills passing the Senate appear dim.

As an alternate means of raising the funds the Highway wants — as much as 21 million dollars worth — reportedly may be proposed in legislation.

65 Lawmakers Have Kin on Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixty-five members of the House of Representatives had relatives or employees with the same family name on their January payrolls.

Some of the employees are known to be wives or daughters of their employers. Some were getting the top pay rate, $18,044.02 annually, while others were getting the lowest scale, $74.73 per year.

Three representatives had on their payrolls two employees with names similar to those of their bosses.

Employment in South at New Low Figure

ATLANTA (AP) — Employment in the South last month was at its lowest point since last July, the U. S. Department of Commerce said today.

Even so, the report noted the January figure of 83.1 was the second highest of all the sections of the country.

The report covered total civilian non-institutional employment in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, the Carolinas, the Virginias, Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and the District of Columbia.

Only the North Central States had a higher rate of employment in January, 83.1. The corresponding figure for the Northeast was 82.1 and for the West, 82.0.

Merrill C. Coffin, Commerce Department field manager, said an encouraging note in the South's employment figure was that 83.3 per cent of the total were on the job in non-agricultural pursuits, the highest rate of such employment since January, 1958.

Lofon said the total figure of 83.1 per cent reflected a rather sharp decline from the 94.4 per cent in December in the South.

Violence in Arkansas Claims 13

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fourteen persons died violently in Arkansas last week. Seven of the deaths occurred during an accident-filled weekend.

Harrell S. Rose, 24, of Allon, Okla., died at a Little Rock hospital yesterday of injuries suffered in a drilling operation accident in Conway County Saturday.

Rose suffered a fractured skull when he was struck on the head by a falling piece of machinery while he worked on a rig near Morrilton.

Six persons died in fires, six died in traffic accidents and one person was shot to death during the week.

Yesterday 10-year-old William Edgar Autry of West Ridge Community, near Lepanto, was killed when he dashed into the path of a car on his way to church. The boy had just left the automobile of Mrs. L. H. Fielder, wife of the minister at the West Ridge Church of Christ, and ran across state Highway 104. His parents were in the car which struck him, driven by Louis Poupis, 21, of New Iberia, Agout in the Autry home.

Jackie Lee Zale, 25, of Dover, was killed yesterday in a one-car accident near Dover when the car in which he was riding careened off state Highway 123. The driver, J.B. Hutchings, 36, of Russellville, and two other Russellville men, Trumann Volinski, 39, and Glen Ponder, 32, suffered minor injuries.

Dompson Parson, 25, of Bald Knob died in a Newport hospital of injuries received in an auto accident Saturday near Bradford. The car in which he was riding rammed into another vehicle which had overturned on U.S. Highway 67. State Trooper Don Wilcox said.

The driver, Gerald Pitts, 23, was hospitalized at Newport. None of the passengers in the overturned vehicle had been injured seriously.

A 73-year-old man, Frank M. Winkler, died yesterday in a fire that destroyed his home at Fort Smith. Officers said his body was found near a door of the small frame structure.

Fires Saturday killed a woman at Hope, another at Dumas and a child near Sheridan.

Nine More Cubans Are Executed

HAYANA (AP) — Revolutionary firing squads shot nine more former soldiers and policemen today, swelling the unofficial total of the war crimes executions to 39.

Among the dead were ex-Lt. Valeriano Dupuyron Silva and three troops convicted of torturing and hanging four University of Havana students, sympathizers with Fidel Castro's rebels, four days before the New Year flight of President Fulgencio Batista.

President Has a Visit With Secy. Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower went to Walter Reed Army Hospital today for another visit with ailing Secretary of State Dulles.

It was Eisenhower's fourth trip to Dulles' bedside since the doctors announced Feb. 14 that the secretary had suffered a recurrence of cancer.

The President left the White House for Walter Reed at 11:30 a. m. (EST) shortly after a 75-minute conference with the acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The White House provided no details of Herter's talk with Eisenhower, saying only that they discussed State Department business.

It was Eisenhower's only announced engagement for this Washington's Birthday holiday.

Meanwhile, a suggestion by Sen. Stuart Symington (D - Mo) that Dulles resign brought a rebuff from White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

"It is remarkable what people will say to get their names in the papers," Hagerty said.

In reply to questions, Hagerty told reporters President Eisenhower is aware of Symington's suggestion but had no comment about it.

"He is also aware," Hagerty said, "that many other members of the Senate are saying that we should avail ourselves of Mr. Dulles' services."

Dulles talked about the international situation Sunday with Vice President Nixon and later with his brother, Allen W. Dulles.

The subdued disagreement over whether Dulles should resign was stepped up a bit by Symington on Saturday. He said in St. Louis that he didn't think Dulles could run the State Department from a hospital.

Feeder Calf Sale Slated Here Sept. 11

The Board of Directors of the Farmer - Rancher Feeder Calf Producers Association met at the Diamond Cafe here last week to study the 19 state-wide sales held in 1958.

Hope's sale ranked no. 4 in price and procedure which was an accomplishment as this was the group's first sale. Present plans scheduled 18 sales in Arkansas this year, six Spring and 12 Fall sales.

The group decided an earlier sale here would be more satisfactory and it was set for Sept. 11. Last year's sale was in October. Rules and regulations will be about the same as last year with a little more attention given to quality and deboning. The board expressed appreciation to Agent Oliver Adams and the Extension Service for its help. The Board will meet Friday, June 12.

Disarmament Subject of Moscow Talks

By A. GOLDBERG

MOSCOW (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan and Premier Khrushchev met for two and a half hours in the Kremlin today and apparently discussed the disarmament deadlock between the West and the Russians.

Only one adviser — disarmament expert Con. O'Neill — accompanied Macmillan, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Ambassador Sir Patrick Abernethy to the first formal conference of the British delegation's visit.

The official Soviet news agency in a brief dispatch after the meeting said that Macmillan and Khrushchev had "friendly conversations."

Macmillan and Khrushchev got down to formal Kremlin talks after a get-acquainted weekend in the country.

Boys Rescued From Cliff in Face of Tide

SEASIDE, Ore. (AP) — Two boys, one injured by a 35-foot fall, were pulled up a rugged 100-foot cliff from an Oregon beach Sunday night in a daring after dark rescue race against incoming Pacific Ocean tides.

The two lowered a rope and climbed down the face of the jagged cliff to the beach. But they were unable to climb back up their wet rope.

Charles Kenney, 17, of Netarts, Ore., climbed almost to the top, then started sliding. The slipped faster and faster, finally falling the last 35 feet. He suffered an injured shoulder and a cut hand.

Ron Makinster, 18, of Tillamook, Ore., remained below.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Kangas of Portland, leading a hiking party in the rugged coastal area some 20 miles down the coast from here, saw the boy fall and signaled they would go for help.

A 16-man rescue party reached the area from nearby Nehalem. Dr. Ralph Perkins was lowered in the darkness.

"We arranged that I should use the boy's rope as a signal," Dr. Perkins said, "but I lost it in the dark going down."

Perkins and the two boys were stranded. The rescuers above lowered state policeman Dave Wilson half-way down. He spotted the three with a flashlight and relayed their hand signals.

The injured boy, in a basket litter, and the other boy, along with Dr. Perkins, were pulled up safely by just as the tide began closing in on the narrow strip of rock and sand.

Nashville Man Hurt in Wreck

About 3 p. m. Sunday at the Junction of Highways 53 and 4, a three-way accident left at least three persons injured. An Onkrest ambulance brought Dean McMillan, Nashville, to a local hospital for treatment of severe head lacerations. Two others were injured but were not treated here. Details of the accident could not be learned immediately. However, two other cars were involved and property damage was heavy.

Four other persons on the 21-foot inboard cruiser swam about 75 yards to a duck blind. They were brought to shore by a fishing craft. They were listed as Mrs. Bobbie Tyson of Atlanta, Ga., E. L. Carter and Bill Nance of Shreveport and the boat's owner, Glen Smith.

The boat was cruising from 10 to 12 miles per hour and struck an underwater piling. The boat filled with water almost immediately.

Prior to coming to Shreveport he was connected with the Fort Worth, Texas Chamber of Commerce as assistant publicity director. The bill was jointly sponsored by Sens. Max Howell and Ellis Pagan of Little Rock and Sen. Artie Gregory of North Little Rock.

Their county, Pulaski, is the only one in the state affected by provisions of the bill. Gov. Orval E. Faubus last fall closed Little Rock's four public high schools to avert court-ordered integration and the schools are still closed.

Mars Landing Predicted in 10-15 Years

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — The first U.S. manned space expedition will land on the planet Mars in 10 to 15 years, scientists predicted.

"In the not too distant future such a trip can be made and has to be made," the army's top space experts said Sunday.

Dr. Werner von Braun, technical director of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, and three of his colleagues outlined the journey in a lecture at Rollins College.

Von Braun described the expedition as "the crowning achievement of the man-in-space program now in progress."

The scientists said the round trip, using two giant spaceships, would be completed in 32 months.

The best opportunity will come next on Aug. 10, 1971 when the two planets are in closest relation — 34.6 million miles.

Don Brain German-born missile pioneer shared the rostrum with ABMA Deputy Technical Director Eberhard F. M. Rees and Arthur Rudolph, project director of the solid fuel Pershing missile program and Fritz Mueller, deputy director of the ABMA Guidance and Control Laboratory.

Wants Alabama as Defendant in Vote Case

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Federal attorneys asked U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson today to make the State of Alabama one of the defendants in the suit over alleged denial of Negro voting rights in Macon County.

A motion to make the state a party to the suit was filed shortly before the start of a hearing in federal court.

The apparent purpose of the maneuver was to get around the possibility that two other defendants who have resigned from the Macon County voter registration board might be disqualified. Without them, the government could find itself legally with no one to sue unless it was able to get the state brought into the suit.

A subpoena was expected to be served on Gov. John Patterson as chief executive of Alabama.

Today's hearing could determine whether the Justice Department can proceed with its suit to prohibit Macon County authorities from discriminating against Negroes.

The hearing is on a government motion to forbid Macon County officials from destroying old voter registration records which federal attorneys want for evidence.

A new state law authorized all counties to throw away questionnaires filled out by voters. Applicants who were later rejected. The questionnaires are used to determine if applicants are eligible to vote.

But the real point of the hearing is to determine at whom a suit against the county could be directed. State attorneys say the last two Macon registrars, E. P. Livingston and State Rep. Grady Rogers resigned last December and therefore there is no one to issue a court order against.

But federal attorneys named Livingston and Rogers as defendants, contending they cannot legally resign until their successors have been appointed.

Johnston rules Livingston and Rogers are no longer members of the Board of Registrars. He must decide whether the government can proceed with its suit without specific defendants.

Bernard K. Hoffmann

"Another wheel of ours broke in operation. It killed a man."

The short fat man in the blue overalls closed the heavy steel door of the testing machine and pressed a button. There came a high whine as the grinding wheel inside began to whirl on its spindle. The whine climbed to a screeching roar while an indicator on a white dial moved swiftly and smoothly past black numbers to 14,250. It hovered there and receded to zero.

As the roar died away, the fat man opened a steel door, expertly twisted a wrench and removed a black grinding wheel from the spindle and placed it gently on a steel platform beside the testing apparatus. He said, "That baby's okay, Mr. Ackerman."

Howard Ackerman nodded and said to Mrs. Bennett, "You've seen for yourself. The recommended speed for that size and type of grinding wheel is 9,500 surface feet per minute. You just saw it revolved at 14,250, and it didn't break apart. Every wheel over six inches in diameter which leaves this shop is tested this way. Far over the operating speed — and the inspector signs a notarized statement of the testing speed.

"And yet," I said, "yesterday, in a Toledo foundry, a man was injured by one of your wheels when it broke in operation."

Ackerman sighed. He was a tall slender man, not more than 40, with a lean freckled face, short graying hair and bright black eyes behind rimless glasses. He wore a light gray suit and a bright figured bow tie. He protested, "clip on type."

I followed Ackerman through a steel door into a paneled hallway. The air conditioned coolness her was pleasant. He went up a short flight of steps and entered an open area where maybe 40 people were working at desks and various types of business machines.

"General office," Ackerman told me and entered another hallway. Ackerman opened a glass door labeled "superintendent" and we stepped into a carpeted office where a blond woman sat at a desk bearing an electric typewriter.

Ackerman said, "Dorothy, this is Mr. Bennett. He nodded at me. Bennett, meet my secretary, Mrs. Donovan."

The woman smiled and stood up. She was taller than I'd expected and wore a white blouse tucked into the waist of a light green skirt. She was maybe 30, gave or took a few years, and her eyes were a pale brown. Her complexion was smooth, her lips full and sleekly lip-sticked. I moved my hat and smiled at her.

She said to Ackerman, "Mr. Masters has called a meeting for two o'clock."

"On wheel breakage?"

"I'm afraid so," she smiled wryly.

"All right," Ackerman said shortly.

I nodded at Mrs. Donovan and followed Ackerman through a door into a rather bare office containing three wooden chairs, a large olive-tinted steel desk, filing cabinets and a dictating machine. Ackerman motioned me to a chair and I sat down, holding my hat on my knee. He closed the door and then sat in a swivel chair behind the desk.

"Bennett," he said, "I've got to get to the bottom of this breakage. It's murdering one of our biggest accounts. The Portage Foundry, in Toledo, where the man was hurt yesterday. A grinding wheel breaking in operation is a wicked thing — it's like an exploding bomb or shrapnel. And when a man is injured by a certain make of wheel — well, that kind of thing eats around the industry fast." He sighed, put on his glasses and gazed at me steadily. "You've got to help me, Bennett."

"It seems to me that this is a job for your engineers, are your technical men. I don't know anything about emergency stones."

"Please," Ackerman broke in. "Modern grinding wheels contain no emery and they're not stones, except the old-fashioned quarried ones. They are a scientifically blended product of bonding materials."

I grinned at him. "Skip the technical details. I still don't see what I can do for you. The fault must lie in manufacturing, somewhere along the line."

Ackerman shook his head. "That has been checked over and over. As near as we can tell the wheels are made correctly. It's the way. But still they keep breaking. It's driving the entire organization crazy, and Masters has dumped the whole mess in my lap."

"Master?"

"Executive vice-president and general manager," Ackerman said. "Respect, this thing is caused by someone working in the plant."

"Why?"

He shrugged. "When you catch him, maybe well learn why. Maybe he's someone with a grudge against the company. We employ 300 people here and there's bound to be a few, well, crackpots."

"But why me?" I asked.

"Work for as private investigation outfit. Usually we leave the industrial stuff to firms specializing in it. They're good at it."

"We thought of that," Ackerman said, "but I don't mind telling you that I've checked on you and I know that you've done some industrial investigation work down South."

I sighed, remembering a mid-southern metropolis called Steel City and the two times I'd been loaned out by the agency on special industrial assignments. I said carefully, "I'm not working for the Ohio Industrial Commission."

"This has nothing to do with the Commission."

"It might. If one of your wheels broke in operation and injured a man, the Commission will be interested in learning why the wheel broke. If they can prove negligence on your part, then you're in trouble."

"We're in trouble already," Ackerman said grimly. "Right now all I'm interested in is finding the person who is damaging the product and stopping the breakage in the field. None of us here have made any progress. It's a job for a professional someone who isn't close to the operation, and who is trained in investigation. It's a person, we want. It'll be your job to find him."

"Have other customers had breakage?"

"Not for a long time. Several years ago one of our wheels broke in a Zanesville machine shop, but we found that it had not been mounted properly and that the operator had exceeded the safe speed limit. No one was hurt. It happens once in a while, and not only in our wheels. But if the operator follows the rules there is no danger."

"And this Portage Foundry is a big account?"

"One of our biggest. The sales department is screaming."

"Can you blame them?"

"No," Ackerman said at me solemnly. "Bennett has been in industry all my life. When I came to Buckeye 10 years ago, it was just another job to me. But now it's much more than that. It's my career. I've got to be with Buckeye when I retire. For 75 years, this company has made a quality product and earned a fine reputation all over the world. And then some screwball comes along and ruins everything the company has built up. I want that man caught and I want him caught fast. You can name your price."

I said to Ackerman, "It's not a matter of price. Our fees are fixed. Does anyone know that you've contacted me?"

"Just Logan Masters. I got his approval before I asked you to come down here."

"If I start snooping around, how will you explain me to the rest of the organization? Am I supposed to be a new employee?"

"I've given it some thought. You'll be a new salesman, hired for the Cleveland territory. That way you'll have the run of the plant. You will merely be acquainting yourself with the product so that you can go out and sell Buckeye wheels. You'll check in with Personnel, just as if you were a new salesman, hired by the Cleveland district manager. Will you do it?"

A phone rang in the outer office and almost immediately a buzzer let loose on Ackerman's desk. He said, "Excuse me," and picked up the phone. "Ackerman speaking."

I could hear the crackle of a voice on the wire. Ackerman's face went grim and my head of sweat formed on his forehead. The voice crackled some more. Then Ackerman spoke in a strained voice. "Yes, Logan. I understand. Yes, he's here in my office. Yes, Logan, we'll get right on it. He opened his mouth to say more, but I heard the distinct sharp click of the receiver."

Ackerman slowly cradled the phone and looked at me. "Bennett, that was Logan Masters. He

Search Starts for Doctors in Snow Area

BERLIN, N.H. (AP) — A 20-man band of snow-experienced men searched the Littleton area today for two doctors who disappeared Saturday returning from a 70-mile mercy flight from Berlin to Lebanon.

The group included two doctors. They were members of the Dartmouth Outing Club which had several other crews standing by in case they were needed.

Some 40 aircraft also flew over the area seeking a trace of Dr. Ralph E. Miller, 60, an experienced pilot and Dr. Robert E. Quinn, 32, members of the Dartmouth Medical College faculty. They were last seen in their plane Saturday afternoon.

The Littleton search was prompted by at least half a dozen reports, search coordinators said that a small plane had been heard there Saturday.

The Littleton area, just west of the White Mountains, is fairly flat and there is an abandoned air strip there.

The ground searchers pulled two toboggans with them in case they find the two doctors who had come to Berlin Saturday to treat a heart patient.

Fears were expressed for the men as the temperature in the area dropped well below zero Saturday and Sunday nights. It was only two degrees above zero today.

Littleton is about 35 miles west of Berlin and 50 north of Lebanon.

Roads Damaged by Heavy Rains

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Recent heavy rains have damaged a number of roads in Arkansas, state highway officials announced today.

R. B. Winfrey, acting director of the Highway Department, gave two examples.

He said weekend rains washed a hole about 3 by 4 feet in a coating of asphalt on a temporary road just off Highway 67 at the interchange on new Highway 88 between Little Rock and Hot Springs. The washout was near Benton.

The temporary road had been placed in service earlier than originally planned in order to handle racing season traffic. Highway crews repaired the road Sunday.

In the other example, a gravel service road alongside Highway 88 just outside of Hot Springs developed rough places because of heavy rains and is being repaired.

Just had a call from the Portage Foundry. Another wheel of ours broke in operation. It killed a man.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

You'll love the full six-passenger comfort in the cars

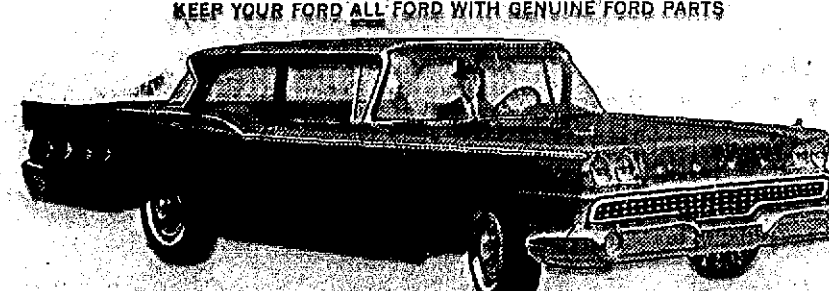

BUILT FOR PEOPLE . . .

Just one standard was used by Ford in designing its 1959 car — people! First, Ford made the door openings wider, so it's easier to get in and out. Next they made sure that six big people — not just four or five — could stretch out on seats that are padded their full width. Result? More room for everybody's legs, elbows, hips and hats . . . more solid comfort than ever before.

BUILT FOR SAVINGS . . .

Savings start the moment you buy a Ford. A price tag comparison with major competitive cars will prove it! And you go right on saving. Ford's standard engines that thrive on regular gas save you a dollar each tankful. Ford's Full-Flow Oil Filter means oil changes only each 4000 miles. Ford's aluminumized mufflers last twice as long. And new Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing!

In the interests of possessing a smooth, creamy skin all winter, this girl makes regular use (left) of a light, medicated lotion that restores moisture to the skin. She does not neglect hands (center) since they are likely to show immediately rough and red in cold weather. She uses the results of cold weather, dry heat and water. She uses the lotion several times a day and always at night. A hand and body lotion (right) containing royal jelly is ideal for keeping legs smooth and silky all winter. It should always be used at once after shaving the legs. Give special attention to the heel since the part where the shoe touches is often rough and red in cold weather. You may want to use a pumice stone on the heel before you apply lotion.

Space Capsules to Be Launched

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dummy space capsules — some of them carrying small animals — will be launched with a series of different missiles to make as certain as possible the first American spacecraft will return safely to earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration wants to be sure it can keep tabs on the capsules when they come back.

The first off Cape Canaveral, Fla., would be the ideal point for safe recovery of the capsules. But NASA wants to get ready for the possibility some of them may end up far inland.

The agency wants to fill a big gap in Texas, in the tracking station chain that will help recover the capsules.

Price tag for filling the gap: 5 1/2 million dollars.

NASA Administrator T. Keith Glennan has told the Senate Space Committee that a missile will be needed to plug the gap, with a radar, tracking and communications station at a location in southern Texas not yet selected.

Italian Directors Still Sees Indian

PARIS (AP)—Italian film director Roberto Rossellini said today he often saw his Indian girl friend Sonali Das Gupta. But he declined to talk to a reporter about any marriage plans.

Mrs. Das Gupta has been living incognito at the home of wealthy friends of Rossellini about 15 miles south of Paris. With her are her two children, a boy Hari, 3, and a girl, Raffaella, born in Paris 14 months ago.

Rossellini normally comes to Paris weekends from Rome to see his three children by his former wife, Ingrid Bergman, now living outside Paris with her present husband, Lars Schmidt.

Rossellini and Miss Bergman are presently suing in Rome and Paris courts for custody of the three children.

How They Stand in Various Cage Conferences

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports-Writer

Take a bit of parlaying here and there, but within the next six days the NCAA can have 10 more major conference teams all parlayed into its championship basketball extravaganza next month.

The major conference representatives make up 17 of the 24 berths for the NCAA's version of basketball's March madness and so far only three have been decided.

From Eastern Kentucky of the Ohio Valley, Texas Christian of the Southwest, and Kansas State of the Big Eight, the list can balloon to include teams from the Ivy League, and the Yankee, Border, Southeastern, Big 10, Rocky Mountain, Pacific Coast, Mid-American, Southern and West Coast A.A. Conferences before the week is out.

Although six more "at large" entries remain to be named—Marquette is the only one picked so far—its the conference state that draws attention, and for good reason. At large entry has won the NCAA championship since the ill-fated CNY club of 1950.

It was Kentucky's turn again last year and the Wildcats are one of the teams that can learn their fate within a week. Although they smashed Auburn's 39-game winning streak in a 75-56 show of strength last Saturday night, the Wildcats are still on tender hooks in the Southeastern conference scramble.

Cross out Auburn, although it shares top spot with Mississippi State at 10-1 to 10-2 for Kentucky. Auburn loses out because it is on NCAA probation.

If Mississippi State holds its edge over Kentucky, the Masons have the NCAA berth if they want it. They may not because of the Mississippi custom of not playing racially integrated teams. If they refuse, Kentucky gets the nod.

The other races hinge purely on competition. Here's a rundown:

IVY LEAGUE—Dartmouth (11-0) clinches if it beats runner-up Princeton (10-1) Friday and Penn State (10-1) Saturday.

YANKEE—Connecticut (7-2) has a tie clinches and wins title if second place Rhode Island (5-3) loses to Massachusetts Saturday. If not, the UConn's tie against Rhode Island March 4.

BORDER—Arizona State U. (7-2) can clinch tie by beating New Mexico State tonight. Texas Western (5-2) with three games remaining has chance.

BIG 10—Michigan State (9-2) has clinched tie, needs one victory in three games for title. It plays Indiana Saturday after-ROCKY MOUNTAIN—Idaho

Little Rock Junior Cagers Win Crown

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock's Southwest Mustangs repeated their performance of last year and captured the Class AAA junior high basketball championship here Saturday night by downing the Hot Springs Spartans 35-25.

Darrell Ward and Freddy Young carried the offensive load for the winners while James Dodd paced the Hot Springs.

Southwest defeated El Dorado 43-42 in the semifinals and Hot Springs turned back Forest Heights of Little Rock, 34-25.

Hope Drops Two Games to Magnolia

Hope Cagers dropped a double-header to Magnolia here Saturday night with the Senior boys losing 67 to 52. The local Juniors were edged 30 to 23.

Watkins was high for the Bobcats with 23 and Johnson of Magnolia tossed in 26. Roberts scored 9 points for the local Juniors while Burke made the same amount for Magnolia.

Friday night the Bobcats entertained Hot Springs on the local court.

State (7-1) has two chances to clinch—against Colorado Mines Friday and same team on Saturday.

PACIFIC COAST—California (10-2) wins by sweeping Oregon State, Southern California and Washington State this week end. Washington (10-3), but beaten twice by California in running.

MID-AMERICAN—Miami, Ohio, can clinch by beating Ohio U. Tuesday and Kent State Saturday. Bowling Green, 8-3 to Miami's 8-1, challenges.

WEST COAST A.A.—St. Mary's of California (9-0) needs one more victory in three games remaining. Plays College of Pacific tomorrow, San Jose Friday.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE—NCAA berth decided in conference tournament Thursday through Saturday at Richmond, West Virginia, unbeaten in loop since 1955, favored.

That leaves the Missouri Valley, Skyline, Middle Atlantic and Atlantic Coast races still to be determined. Cincinnati leads the MVC with 9-0 to Bradley's 8-2 with five games remaining to Bradley's four. Utah's 9-1 record gives it a half game edge over Denver (9-2) in the Skyline with four left for the Utes and three for Denver.

The Middle Atlantic berth is all set for St. Joseph's (Pa.) if the Hawks beat Lehigh on March 4 or Muhlenberg on March 7.

The ACC, like the Southern, fills its NCAA berth from its own post-season tournament—beginning March 5 in Raleigh, North Carolina, despite its loss to Maryland in a 69-51 shocker Saturday, remains the favorite.

Prescott Girls Lose Out to Texarkana

The Texarkana Razorettes won District 7-W, Class A senior girls tournament Saturday night in the Gordon Gym by defeating Prescott 51-34. Texarkana's win puts them in the State tournament at England Wednesday opposite Marianna.

Sylvia Arterbury hit for 20 points to pace the winners. Ester Lavender scored 11 and Sue Harris 8 for Prescott.

Prescott junior boys lost out in the finals to Arkadelphia by a 52-50 score, after besting DeQueen in the semi-finals.

In the Class B senior girls tournament held in the Murfreesboro Gym, Bradley look the finals from Murfreesboro 44 to 38. Bradley will face Parkin Wednesday night in the State tournament.

30 Teams are Entered in Delight Meet

Thirty teams entered the Class B senior boys District 7-W tournament being held in the Delight Gym which started at noon today. Games this afternoon paired Lillaburg vs Bradley, Emmet vs Gilman and Garland vs Mineral Springs.

Games tonight start at 5:30 with Diekts taking on Umpire Oklahoma vs Lewisville at 6:30. Delight versus Bright Star at 7:45 and Murfreesboro vs Locksburg at 9 p.m.

Tuesday games: Fouke vs Bodcaw at 12 noon, Guernsey vs Wilshire at 1 p.m., Spring Hill vs Amity at 2:15 and Kirby vs Langley at 3:30. Stamps wins with Foreman at 6 p.m., Blevins plays Horatio at 7:15. At 8:30, the winner of the Genoa Central-Glenwood game will play the winner of the Delight-Bright Star game.

There will be four games Wednesday afternoon and three games Wednesday night. Quarterfinal matches will be played Thursday night with two semifinal games Friday night and the championship game Saturday night at 7:30.

Arkansas, SMU Meet Tonight at Dallas

By WHITEY SAWYER
Associated Press Staff Writer
Southern Methodist and Texas Tech fight this week for second place in the Southwest Conference basketball race. Texas Christian has the championship stowed away along with its league football crown.

TCU dlammed Texas 72-61 Saturday night and Texas Tech downed SMU 72-64 to put the Horned Frogs home free. They boast an 11-1 record in championship play.

Tech and SMU are tied for second with 7-4 records. With only three conference games left, neither can catch TCU.

The Mustangs host Arkansas at Dallas tonight and TCU Saturday night. Arkansas shared the conference championship with SMU last year.

Texas Tech plays Rice at Houston tomorrow and visits Baylor at Waco Saturday this week in its fight for second place.

Other games match Texas A&M and Texas at Austin Tuesday. Texas A&M and Rice at Houston Saturday and Texas and Arkansas at Fayetteville Saturday.

SMU trimmed hapless Texas 78-68 last week to stay in the race until Tech put a stop to things. Texas Christian tripped Rice 69-64 in its other game.

Arkansas beat Baylor 59-53 and A&M 72-71. Rice beat Baylor 54-48.

Baylor's two losses dropped the Bears to a 6-6 record and fourth place.

A&M and Arkansas are tied 5-6. Rice is 3-8 and Texas 1-10. After this week, all eight clubs play March 3 to finish up the season.

TCU played its strong suit, balance, against Texas for its victory.

H. E. Kiercher, the league's leading scorer with 417 points, tossed in 17 points, Derrill Nippert got 16 and Ronny Stevenson 15. Bobby Puryear of Texas led all scorers, however, with 22.

Texas Tech was never behind in its close game with SMU. Leon Hill popped in 23 points and held SMU's Steve Strange to 6. Wilbur Marsh got 18 and Bobby James 17 for the Mustangs.

Ray Carpenter tipped one in at College Station just as the times' gun sounded to give Arkansas its one-point victory over A&M.

TCU also leads the season standings with an 11-1 record. Texas A&M and Texas Tech are tied for second with 4-7 while SMU follows with 1-3.

Incidentally, Texas A&M won the pre-season conference at Houston last year and was favored to win the championship as a result.

Harding Will Enter AIC Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference has cleared three member schools of guilt in four eligibility violations and admitted a 10th member, Harding College.

The action was taken at a meeting of the league's faculty committee here Saturday.

Schools involved in the eligibility violations were Arkansas State Teachers College, Arkansas Tech and Arkansas College. In each case the committee agreed that no willful violations were intended. No penalties will be levied.

The State Teachers case concerned Frank Scheible, a 28-year-old fullback who played last fall. The committee found that Scheible withheld from ASTC the fact he had previously played four years of college football.

In the case of Henry Brummett, a sophomore halfback from Benton who played for Arkansas Tech in 1957 and 1958, the committee found he had received more than the maximum amount of aid allowed by AIC regulations—again, without the school's knowledge.

Max Lay, a transfer from Tech to Arkansas College, played in a scrimmage basketball game against another school but the committee decided this violated no conference rule.

In the case of Jimmy Smith who was ineligible on basis of grades when he participated in basketball at Arkansas College, the committee found that an error had been made in compiling his grade point average and Smith was unaware of it.

Says Johnson Runs Party by Himself

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) protested today that Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas runs the party program in the Senate without consulting other Democratic senators.

"The typical Democratic senator has literally nothing to do with determining the legislative program and policies of this party in the Senate," Proxmire said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate.

Although lauding the abilities and drive of Johnson, Proxmire demanded that the 84 Democratic senators be called together for a conference or caucus before major party decisions are taken on legislation.

Hope-Prescott Girls Cagers in Action

PRESCOTT'S JUDY HARRIS dunks in 2 points as teammate Ester Lavender watches anxiously under the basket. Hope guards Judy McDowell, No. 50, and Violet Tommenaker, No. 66, couldn't quite block the shot that gave Prescott a 28-22 lead in the third quarter. Prescott won the game 47-42, and a chance at Texarkana in the finals Saturday night of the District 7-W tournament. Texarkana won the title.

HOPE'S JUDY RATELIEF arches a high two handed shot with a second to go in the first period which swished through and gave the Ladycats a 11-10 lead over Prescott in their semi-final match Friday night in plastic. Left play at Gordon. Waiting for a possible rebound is teammate Joyce Vines, No. 55. Attempting to block Judy's shot is Prescott guard Jane Burdette with teammate Sandra Nelson looking toward the goal.

Gen. Marshall Growing Weaker

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall weakened today. His condition remains serious.

In a medical report on the 78-year-old general, Col. George M. Powell, Army physician, said, "He shows an indication of an involvement of the pituitary gland as evidenced by a definite increase in water output by way of the kidneys. This involvement has complicated his treatment."

Dr. Powell explained that the world population will be slightly more than 4 billion people by 1980, says the Population Reference Bureau in Washington, D. C.

He said he had not discussed his protest speeches in advance with Johnson or other Senate Democratic leaders because past efforts at change by this method had failed.

Johnson is in Texas. He flew there last week with President Eisenhower who was flying to Mexico.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) told the Senate today that Johnson has influenza and may not return to Washington until Thursday.

The world population will be slightly more than 4 billion people by 1980, says the Population Reference Bureau in Washington, D. C.

Asks Calmness in Strike Bound Plant

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—A union official, broadcast appeals for calmness today as violence continued at the strike-bound Harlow-Henderson Cotton Mills.

Stone throwing, a car tipping and a bombing were reported today. The bombing was the third reported since the riots reopened Feb. 16.

Boyd Payton, regional director for the Textile Workers Union of America, described the situation around the mill gates as "an armed camp."

He said the union, in paid hourly broadcasts, is appealing to its members and townspeople to remain calm.

Payton reported that both sides will meet with a federal conciliator Tuesday at 2 p. m. in an effort to iron out the dispute, which he said stems from the desire of the mill to eliminate an arbitration clause in the contract. The strike began last Nov. 17 when negotiations over a new contract broke down.

Nixon Rated Out Front by Latest Poll

WASHINGTON (AP)—A magazine survey of political leaders rates Vice President Nixon far out in front for the Republican presidential nomination. Among Democrats, it says sentiment now favors Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri or Adlai E. Stevenson.

A copyrighted article in U.S. News & World Report magazine also lists Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as Democratic contenders. And trailing them are Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Govs. C. McNamara, Williams of Michigan and Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

The magazine said it interviewed men of both parties who have the most to say about choosing candidates. They included governors, state chairmen, national committeemen, and leaders of party organizations.

The article says that Republican enthusiasm for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York seems to have gone down somewhat since he brought out a program of higher state taxes.

cerned feeding, which a heretofore has been by intravenous solution and through a tube into his stomach.

The general's second stroke was accompanied by mild pneumonia. Col. Powell reported the pneumonia under control.

Chicago Bus Drivers Out on a Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—Drivers and maintenance employees of a bus line serving 40,000 passengers in 20 suburban communities went on strike today in a long dispute over wages.

The president of the struck company, West Towns Bus Com., said he will take steps to make good his threat to go out of business.

More than 300 members of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric and Motor Coach Employees of America struck after company and union negotiations failed.

Evan J. McElraith, the company

president, said his attorneys will appear before the Illinois Commerce Commission and ask permission to liquidate the firm. The company operates 162 buses over 200 route miles in Cook and Du Page counties. Some 10,000 of the company's riders are school children. Bluebird Coach Lines, which travels much of the affected territory said 15 extra buses will be put in operation. McElraith said the company was unable to pay interest on its mortgage last year and has been operating at a loss for several years.

How Many Beans...

Perhaps you, too, stood outside a store window in your youth and tried to estimate the number of beans in a display.

Guessing the circulation of a newspaper was once quite a game for advertisers,

But the Audit Bureau of Circulations took all the chance out of this game. A.B.C. auditors don't stand outside and estimate—they come inside the publisher's office and count.

When the auditor is finished and his precise findings published, well there's just no room for guessing.

It's all there in his report—how much circulation, where copies were circulated, how much people paid, and some of the reasons why the people bought our paper.

There's no reason to guess about the circulation audience you get when you advertise in our paper. The facts are down in black and white for you to see.

Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.
